

REVOLUTION NOW FACING GERMANY SAYS BOLSHEVIST

Leonid Krassin, Head of Trade Mission Declares
Trouble Near

RUSSIA NOT FACTOR

No Alliance Between Soviet
and Germany is Thought Probable

London, Jan. 31.—Revolution, un-
loosed by French invasion, is at hand in Germany, according to opinion expressed here today by Leonid
Krassin, head of the Russian trade
mission in London and probable successor of Nicolai Lenin, chief of the Moscow government.

Krassin said that, despite the
troubles of Europe and the likelihood
of an uprising in Germany there has been no treaty of alliance between Germany and Russia. The Soviet official made formal denial that the
compact signed during the Genoa
conference bore any military clauses
binding Russia to send troops into Germany in event of war.

"The United States, not Russia,
holds the key to the whole situation,"
said Krassin. "It is up to the United States to intervene for peace; not up
to Russia to intervene for war. Russia wants peace; not war. We want
food, clothing, raw materials, work
for our men and homes for our children; not bloodshed and famine and
suffering."

Krassin paused overcome by the vehemence of his own statement. He did not have the appearance of a Bolshevist. He looked like an American or British business man as he sat correctly attired in his offices in
New Bond street—the Fifth Avenue
of London.

"French invasion of the Ruhr is a menace to world peace," said Kras-
sin. "That statement is neither new nor sensational. The whole world knows it. But it menaces prosperity
and peoples should weigh and consider this aspect. The whole situation in central Europe emphasizes
the thing we have been talking about
in Russia—the dangers that arise
from the greed of capitalistic governments. The French are not getting reparations by invasion; they won't get them that way. They are merely bringing on a new war and
proving the contentions of the Russian communists. Russia holds that a re-settlement is necessary under the treaty of Versailles. We believe that fact will not stand."

"Is it your positive belief that French invasion will lead to German revolution?" Krassin was asked.

"Yes, undoubtedly German revolution looms up in the near future, but I hesitate to say whether or not it is
communist in character."

"The chances are that the first outbreak will spring from Monarchist
sources, not bolshevist. But a speedy revolution is certain. There is so much disorganization and suffering
in Germany that it must come. It is the inevitable outcome of a law of nature. Goaded peoples rise up in violence and calmness follows."

It is reported that Krassin will shortly be recalled to Moscow to succeed Lenin as head of the Russian government.

Asked if Russia and Germany would likely enter into a close alliance,
Krassin replied:

"In my judgment such an outcome
is unlikely. We Russians have the friendliest and most neighborly feelings towards Germany but the two nations are organically dissimilar. I doubt if there is ever any close alliance between the two countries. We are ready to give cordial support to Germany if Germany wishes to act
our way, but it is hard to picture
German and Russian soldiers fighting side by side. The differences between the two nations and the two peoples are so very wide. In fact I cannot conceive of a German army
officer allowing one of his battalions
to be quartered near a Russian regiment. It is impossible. Why anyone who has observed the extraordinary differences between the two peoples knows that. It is visible to all."

REPEALS NEVADA'S DRY LAWS.

Carson City, Nev., Jan. 31.—The
state senate passed by a vote of 11
to 5 a resolution repealing all state
prohibition laws now on the statute
books. Proponents of the measure argued that federal laws would keep Nevada as dry as anyone wants Nevada to be.

ATHENS IN TERROR AS PLAGUE RAGES

Athens Jan. 31.—With plague rampant among the thousands of refugees from Thrace and Asia Minor crowding this city and the port of Piraeus, the populace is becoming panic stricken.
The cathedral at Piraeus is filled day and night by expatriates who
pray pitifully for deliverance from the plague.
Refugees kneeling at prayer of ten drop dead from small pox.
The swarms of ill-clad exiles who wander hopelessly through the streets have brought another scourge to Athens. Meningitis has broken out and the medical authorities are unable to cope with it.

GERMAN FINANCIERS CANCEL PLEDGE TO AID IN REBUILDING FRANCE

Lubersac Agreement Will Not Be Fulfilled as Result of French Invasion—Disorders Are Reported From
Sections of Germany.

Essen, Jan. 31.—The Lubersac
agreement, by which a group of German industrialists headed by Hugo
Stinnes pledged themselves to assist
German indemnity payments by rebuilding part of the devastated region of France, has been cancelled as a result of French occupation of the Ruhr. It was stated by Rhineland
newspapers today. The agreement was negotiated through M. DeLubersac, a member of the French Senate,
from whom it gets its name.

Disorders are reported from Mayence, former headquarters of the French army of occupation on the Rhine. The railway strike has

paralyzed traffic in that region, as well as in the Ruhr.

French troops have occupied the Mayence railway station and terminal.

The Paris-Mayence express was halted in the suburbs. The passengers
had to alight and take street cars to
get into the city proper.

Strikers seized a locomotive and
threw it into a ditch.

According to the French the Ruhr
will begin to feel real "isolation" at
the end of this week.

M. Letroquer, French minister of public works and Gen. Weygand, have arranged with the Belgian government for a subordinate civil mission
in the Ruhr under the orders of Gen.
DeCoutte, French commander, that will prepare "a durable organization". This indicates that the French are officially preparing for a stay of indefinite length in the Rhineland
and Ruhr.

It is believed that French immigration into the Ruhr will be encouraged
as soon as conditions become settled
so as to "Frenchify" the district.

SEEK REPEAL OF TRANSPORTATION ACT IN SENATE

Brookhart Wants Railroad
Control Modified In Country

Washington, Jan. 31.—Into the
maze of legislative perplexities in the Senate, Senator Brookhart, Republi-
can of Iowa, shortly will inject a bill
repealing the Esch-Cummings transportation act and drastically modifi-ing railroad control within the United States it was learned today.

While the Iowa Senator and supporters of the proposal do not hold remote hope favorable action can be secured at this time, they want
railroad legislation to be before the
country so sentiment will be ripe to force a change during the next Congress.

In many quarters Brookhart's move
as a result of inactivity of the administration to foster any alterations of
railroad regulatory measures, was
taken as a harbinger that the nationalization issue will be thrown in to the 1924 campaign.

Aside from the LaFollette People's Legislative Services and the Conference for Progressive Political Action,
both of which are backed by labor
unions and favor nationalization,
there were strong intimations a certain element within the Democratic party would advocate government
ownership of railroads.

It was said that at the recent meeting here between William C. Mc-Adoo and W. J. Bryan, a tentative program embracing government ownership had been outlined and would be put out to the country. Should the reaction prove favorable the McAdoo-Bryan coalition would stand ready to demand adoption of the program as a regular, and one of the most important planks in the party's platform.

After repealing the Esch-Cummins
act, the present law under which
railroads operate, Brookhart's bill
sets forth five important changes in
railroad administration:

1—Restoration of the powers of state public utilities over inter state
transportation questions.

2—Limitation of the valuation of railroads to a reasonable period of time. This, it is estimated, would reduce the valuation from about $19,
000,000,000 to $12,000,000,000.

3—Stop capitalization of the unearned increment in real estate values.

4—Definite adequate returns on a basis not to exceed the interest on
the bonded portion of the capitalization.

5—Stop excess profits of subsidiary
corporations, such as companies supplying steel rails and coal.

MEN IDENTIFIED AS BANDITS WHO STOLE PAYROLL

Suspects in Army Robbery
Are Captured By
Posse

MONEY IS RECOVERED

Sensational Affair Comes
to End Near Newport
News

Newport News, Va., Jan. 31.—The
two bandits who escaped with the
army payroll of $43,000 were captured
by a posse about 20 miles from here.
Corporals John Wood and James C.
Harvey of Langley field were identified by Captain Norman D. Cota, chief finance officer of the field, as the men
who held up him and four companions
at the First National bank of Hampton.

The men were captured in the woods near Big Bethel. Most of the money was recovered. It was added,
although the bandits had been forced
to abandon $5,000 in silver.

A vigorous search had been prosecuted for the two by military police
and department of justice officials,
and their capture was from the first
believed to be only a matter of hours.

The captain and the four who accompanied him were found nearly five
hours after the holdup, bound, gagged
and tied to trees near Big Bethel, beside their badly damaged automobile.
Their captors, they said, had escaped
into the woods with the money.

The search was immediately begun, even scouting airplanes being used.

The holdup occurred when the
finance officer left the bank with the
payroll and stepped into his automobile to return to Langley field.

According to witnesses one of the bandits covered Captain Cota with two
revolvers, while his companion covered the others. All were ordered into
the automobile, which was then driven
at high speed toward Newport
News.

Roy Crockett of Hampton, one of
the witnesses of the holdup, said the
entire affair was carried out so methodically that he thought an army
guard was merely arresting some military offenders. The man who covered Captain Cota, according to Crockett,
calmly said, "Keep quiet or I'll blow
your head off."

CONAN DOYLE-LOST IN PLEA FOR SPIRITUALISTIC HEALERS.

Training spiritualistic mediums for healing disease would not be for the public benefit, according to a decision given in the Chancery Court, London. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's affidavit to the efficacy of mediumistic healing was rejected by the court as "not worth being classified as evidence—nothing but a vague expression of opinion and lacking in detail."

The court invalidated a bequest of $15,000 by Gustave Hummeltonburg to the London Spiritualistic Alliance for the foundation of a college for instructing persons in healing diseases through the utilization of supernatural powers. The bequest was challenged by other organizations benefiting under the will. The alliance introduced an affidavit by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and other testimony of an attempt to show such a college for mediums would benefit humanity, but the court reserved judgment after pointing out the lack of evidence showing what the curriculum of such a college would be.

The Judge declared the alliance had failed to satisfy him the bequest would be for the public benefit or of such a kind as might be controlled by the courts.

THE BOYDEN AFFAIR.

When the American Peace Commission came home in 1919 an unofficial representative was left in Paris to report upon the reparations body then forming and to safeguard American interests. The Reparations Commission became one of the most powerful and important bodies in the world. It was necessary that we have first-hand information about it. On the eve of the Harding accession this representative was withdrawn; but the new regime felt the same need of keeping in close touch. So the representative was reinstated and became known as an observer. He could talk but he could not vote. His business was to observe and report.

R. W. Boyden is an able and distinguished Boston lawyer who had served under the Wilson regime in exactly the same position he now holds in Paris. The Harding Administration put him back on the job. He is a man of brains and it may be of more initiative than is good for an observer. He evolved a memorandum on reparations, a "purely personal" plan not approved by the State Department. So far as known, it was fairly innocuous and void of anything startling. It happened to become known at the time when the French were moving in the Ruhr and straightway assumed an importance that was not justified. At any other time it would have caused little comment one way or another.

THE AUTOMOBILE A PROPERTY BOOSTER.

The value of the automobile in increasing rural property values has hardly been given the consideration it deserves. An economist explains that the automobile renders all land more valuable by making it more available—more accessible. That is evident to anyone who thinks the matter over.

The matter is complicated by the fact that with the advent of the motor car comes the inevitable demand for better roads. Then a quarrel arises as to who should pay for the roads. Rural communities have a propensity for insisting that the motor car owners, who live mostly in the adjoining cities, should pay the bulk of it. Accordingly, there is always an insistent demand for higher automobile taxes.

Those urging such taxes disregard the immense benefit to adjacent property owners from those same roads. A boulevard system built a few years ago north of Chicago, at a cost of $16,000,000, is said to have added at once $150,000,000 to the value of abutting property. That was suburban property. Along a more strictly rural route between two cities in another state, a thirty mile stretch of pavement recently completed at a cost of $2,500,000 is estimated to have added immediately $20,000,000 to the value of farm land through which it passes.

A more careful consideration of such facts as these might deter legislative bodies from levying new and burdensome taxes on the automobile owners, who are taxed pretty heavily already.

WORKING FOR CHILDHOOD.

The children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor has been functioning only a little more than ten years. When it was established in 1912 it was the first public policy in the world directed to consider as a whole the problems of childhood and child life.

Since that time interest in and understanding of child welfare has been spreading steadily. Today there are forty-six state bureaus dealing with child health; there was but one in 1912. The number of states providing mothers' pensions have increased from two to forty. Forty-two states are now availing themselves of the aid provided in the Sheppard-Towner maternity act. In more than half the states special bureaus are looking out for the interests of dependent, neglected or delinquent children.

It has been a decade of progress and promise, both in regard to the work of the national children's bureau and that of state and local child welfare organizations. Every child who has been given health, education and protection from exploitation is so much national wealth conserved. And through the work of rescuing these children the public is slowly being taught how to eliminate the unwholesome and evil conditions from which the children are rescued.

The maximum weight limit on parcel post packages sent from the United States to Austria has been increased from 11 pounds to 22 pounds.

It is estimated that 10,000,000 flashlights are used in the United States; over 5,000,000 are sold annually.

No less than 1077 children under 16 years of age are employed in the sugar beet fields of Colorado.

Washington County, Pennsylvania, turned out nearly one-half of all the radium produced in the United States in 1920.

More than 12,228,514 pounds of maple sugar was produced in the province of Quebec, Canada, during the spring of 1921.

A resolution has been introduced in the Canadian House of Commons providing for the coining of a 100 per cent nickel five-cent piece.

WONDER HOW A DINING CAR WAITER MANAGES TO KEEP SO GOOD NATU RED?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The stable belonging to Mrs. Pettigrew, which was recently damaged by fire is being replaced by a new building, which will be used by the Standard Manufacturing Company, of this city. The ordinance providing for the establishment of public scales and for a public weigher for all coal sold by Xenia dealers came up for its second reading at the meeting of the city council last night and was the subject of a good deal of discussion. From all that is known now of the murder of Jacob Harris at Cedarville, it promises to go down into history as one of the dark crimes of the county which will go unpunished, there not being any clue upon which further work can be done. Mrs. C. W. Linkhart has been spending a few days in Springfield where she is the guest of Mrs. Grant Minnich.

ARTFULLY WAVED HAIR

Wavy hair has so many advantages that no one wonders it is almost universally coveted. That's what I want to impress upon more than half the straight haired girls who write me for hair waving directions. But it's hard to say which type face looks best with straight or waved hair, it's necessary to see the face—and even then, one can judge wrongly. Generally, the dark haired tall, sedate type looks nicest with straight hair; beyond that, generalities are impossible. But there are many times when any soft wave is better than straight locks. For instance, if you are tired and your very features seem "draggy", then waved hair will make you appear fresher and younger, perhaps because it will add a touch of frivolity to your expression, and tiredness is anything but frivolous! And after soft be sure you do so all over the head. Nothing odder or more unnatural exist than tight waves in front and straight hair in back. Brunette—Your problem is one for a physician and not a beauty specialist. I would certainly advise you, if you can get no satisfaction from your present doctor, to see another one. You quite rightly had the hair shaved after the fever. Keep it shaved or very short and rub the scalp with hot olive oil every few days until the dandruff has disappeared. Once the scalp is healthy the short hairs will cease falling. Tomorrow—Beauty And Motherhood.

hair is washed it may need waving to hold it up. Certain frocks seem to require a wavy coiffure—and when travelling waved hair is a boon, it "does up" so much more easily. But be sure the artificial wave looks real. Use frons only if necessary and then never have them too hot. The best way is to dampen the hair, roll it on kid or rag curlers, and tie up for several hours. The time depends upon the ease with which your hair takes a wave. Such a method will not hurt you. Hot frons and many of the patented curling arrangements either dry or break the hair. And if you decide to curl the hair,

THE UNFORTUNATE.

When you sit before your fire, on a stormy winter night, everything you could desire, every luxury in sight, do you ever sadly think of the hungry, homeless gink, who has nothing fit to drink, nothing comforting to bite? You have doughnuts in a crock, you have mince and pumpkin pies, you have liverwurst in a stock, bacon in the larder lies; and along the frozen street, trudging on their weary feet, suffering for things to eat, go a hundred famished guys. You've a bed in which to sleep, and it is a stately bed, with its mattress soft and deep, and its blankets striped with red; in the alley grim and dark, or in yonder windswept park, lie the homeless, cold and stark, with a frosty sky o'erhead. And your thoughts in comfort drift to some platitudes threadbare; if they'd only practice thrift, they would not be freezing there; if they'd prudent be, like you, salting down a plunk or two, they would have a bed in view, and a nifty bill of fare. So to charity's appeal you present the frozen face; you can't spare a single wheel for the poor who haunt the place; and you listen to the storm, and your fire is good and warm, and you nurse your fat old form in your comfort—and disgrace.

Today's Talk

The Burglary of Fear

The more you fear, the more you cheat yourself. Fear is like a burglar in your home, taking that which it has neither earned nor owned. The very thought of fear sends poison through the entire body. If you fear to fail, the chances are that you will fail. But your failure is almost sure to be merely the failure of fear.

What a teacher against fear of Jesus was! All through His ministry you will come across words like these: "Fear not"—"Be not afraid"—"Let not your heart be troubled." And whoever knew a great leader who had fear in his heart?

Fear not only steals from the choicest materials in our mental and bodily make-up, but it takes up the room that healthy thought might be occupying.

How few of our fears have any ground whatsoever! The fearful, worried mind stands an object to be lashed and slashed by every passing force that is destructive in its aim.

Fear not—and it matters not at all where you go, or when you go. You will lead. You will conquer. You will be your greatest self.

There is no bluster about the one who has abolished fear. Sanity, serenity and innate strength prevail. A reserve of power is laid aside in him who will not fear.

NO REST--NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "I suffered with 'back ache' and the most annoying symptoms was the irregular action of my kidneys. I felt languid when I arose in the morning and it seemed I never could get any rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Dinges' Drug Store, and they helped me immediately and the second box cured me entirely."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mrs. Pohl said: "I am glad to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the one reliable kidney remedy that cured me of kidney trouble some years ago. I have had no further occasion to use Doan's but I am glad to confirm the statement I gave in 1917 in behalf of this remedy."

CHARGE EMPLOYEES ACTED ILLEGALLY IN SCHOOL CONTRACT

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Claim that employees of the Akron board of education acted illegally in an unbusinesslike manner in connection with the construction of the Perkins school building, costing $572,399, built in 1920 and 1921, is contained in the report of State Examiner B. B. Vance, covering a special examination of the records of construction of the Perkins, Crouse and McEbright school buildings at Akron. The report was made public today by State Auditor Tracy. The examination was made as a result of complaints by Akron citizens.

Examiner Vance, however, pointed out that no matter how unfair the alleged illegal transactions may have been, the Perkins building is finished and in use and "as usual, the tax payers are the losers." To try to recover the loss, he said, would be a long drawn out and expensive task and "would probably end in naught." He declared complaints should be always made during the construction of a building. Then, by refusal of payments by the school board, more beneficial results can be accomplished than through prosecution.

JAMESTOWN

The second Inter-scholastic debate between the pupils of the Jamestown High School and Beavercreek High school will be held at the Jamestown opera house on Friday evening, February 2. Those representing Jamestown will be Lillie Brock, Leona Foster, Ruth Straley. Jamestown takes the affirmative of the subject. Resolved, "That it would be more conducive to peace if all the nations were prepared for war."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liles were called to Cincinnati, last week, on account of the death of Mrs. Lile's mother, Mrs. Anna Dallman, who passed away very suddenly, and had been in apparently good health. Mrs. Dallman had visited here a number of times.

Mrs. Harry Black has been very seriously ill, suffering from an attack of grip, which is prevalent here.

Glen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Pryor, has returned home from Knoxville, Tenn. He was a student at Kimberlin Heights, Tenn.

Mrs. M. F. Titus is in Cincinnati this week, attending the millinery openings, and buying her stock of spring goods. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. F. Harper.

Mrs. Will Sutton issued invitations to thirty-three children to help celebrate the ninth birthday of her daughter, Mary, on Thursday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:30. The time was merrily spent in playing games and with music. Nearing the close Mrs. Sutton, assisted by Mrs. Florence Fields, served refreshments, consisting of cake, ice cream, candy and punch. Miss Mary was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts.

Mrs. J. A. Beran and Mrs. R. D. Bryan were mid-week visitors at Washington, C. H.

Mrs. Viora Haines spent the week end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jackson, near Wilmington.

Mr. W. W. Barnett has bought what is known as the farm of the late Rev. Henry Smith, on the Jamestown-Howersville pike, and will take possession the first of March. The beautiful new home of the Barnetts, in Jamestown, is for sale.

Miss Ella Taylor spent the week-end in the country, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Miss Margaret Lackey was hostess to the members of her Sunday School class, on Saturday afternoon. At the close of the business session, dainty refreshments were served, which added to a delightful social hour.

On Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Penker and Mrs. Will Sutton attended the revival services at the Friends' Church, at New Burlington, which are being conducted by Miss Bertha Day, who will continue the services all this week.

Miss Bess Barker has accepted the position of night operator at the local

telephone exchange, in place of Miss Maud Sharp.

Mr. C. E. Pearson is confined to his room with a severe attack of grip.

The Bible class in the public schools is being taught this semester by N. C. Bangham and J. Carl Pryor, pastors of the M. E. Church and of the Church of Christ. Thirty pupils are enrolled, the largest of the kind in the county. The class is greatly interested in this study.

Mrs. Ford Latham is gradually improving from a serious illness resulting from an attack of grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bishop are recovering from the grip, which has confined them to their home for several days.

The Jamestown Boy Scouts will give an entertainment, "The Knights of the Table," will be shown in eight reels at the Venard Theater on Wednesday evening the 31st. This is for a benefit.

The Jamestown high school basketball team have employed Tyrus Kraegan as coach. He is now playing with the Delco team at Dayton. By profession Mr. Kraegan is a baseball player and plays shortstop on the St. Louis baseball league. The Jamestown team has felt the need of such a coach in order to compete with other teams who have had such training. Coach Kraegan will be in Jamestown two evenings each week. On Thursday evening February first the Jamestown teams—boys and girls—will play the Beavercreek teams on the local floor.

The Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Gray will have for their guests this week, the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Gray of Sumnerfield, Kansas and Mrs. J. F. Heron, of Sterling, Kansas. They came to Jamestown from New Concord, O., where their mother, Mrs. Mary Gray was buried on last Saturday.

On Friday evening the second basketball team of Jamestown and the girls' team went to Ross Township to play their first teams. The Jamestown boys were defeated to the tune of 32 to 9 and the Ross girls just played all around the Jamestown team. They apparently offered no resistance as the score attests 63 to 7. However, they were handicapped by three of their best regulars being on the sick list.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church will have an all day meeting at the parsonage, Friday the second. After the routine of business is transacted the time will be occupied with sewing and a linen shower for the benefit of a hospital at Knoxville, Tenn., to which the Jamestown Church contributes. A luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

Friends of Mrs. J. Gray are sorry to learn that she has been confined to her home with grip but hopes to be up by Friday.

The members of the Jamestown Grange are invited to a meeting of the Pomona Grange, at Yellow Springs, on Wednesday evening, at which time the county officers will be installed. Elmer H. Smith is Overseer-elect and Mrs. G. M. Keach is Secretary both of the Jamestown Grange.

Mrs. Charles McDill has bought the property of the late M. T. McCleight, on East Main Street and she with her daughter Miss Deana, who is now at Melbourne, Fla., will occupy it as a home.

The Union services will be held on next Sunday evening, and the sermon will be by either the Rev. L. L. Gray or by his brother W. R. Gray, who is visiting here and who will probably preach at the United Presbyterian Church, on Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. H. Rockhold will be the hostess to the members of the Rural Improvement club, on Wednesday afternoon. Responses to roll call will be "My Resolutions as a Church Member for the Current Year," "Sketches from the Life of Benjamin Franklin," Mrs. J. H. Turner, "Incidents of the Life of President McKinley," Mrs. A. G. Paullin. Music will be furnished by the hostess. A luncheon will be served during the social hour.

Bible School of the Church of Christ a contest was on between the classes of Charles Leach and of that of Mrs. Ray Murray, the latter's class winning by a few points. On Tuesday evening the losing class will banquet the winners at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leach.

MRS. M. BAHRKE, COLUMBUS, O.
Pennsylvania Avenue Couple Very Much Improved in Health After Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mrs. M. Bahrke, who lives at 839 Pennsylvania Avenue, Columbus, praises Ka-di-ok very highly for having relieved her of a bad case of stomach trouble and also for the improved state of health of her husband. In a signed statement, she says: "I was bothered with stomach trouble and indigestion for a considerable time. On account of feeling so distressed and miserable after eating, I lost all desire to sit down and eat a decent meal, and many different things I would have enjoyed I did not dare to eat, as I felt sure they would upset me. I was very sleepless at night and was weak and indisposed all the time. I am very thankful to be able to say that after taking Ka-di-ok I have a keen appetite and am now able to eat any food I care for without being bothered at all afterwards. In other words, my food digests perfectly. I sleep well now and am stronger and in better health than I have been in many months. My husband also took Ka-di-ok and it helped him wonderfully. I cannot praise Ka-di-ok too highly for persons suffering from stomach trouble. If Ka-di-ok relieves every one like it did me and my husband, it is indeed a blessing to humanity."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

CLINT F. LOGAN IS CALLED BY DEATH TUESDAY EVENING

After a week's illness, which began with an attack of grip, which later developed into pneumonia, Clint F. Logan, 74, former city official, died at his home on East Second Street, Tuesday night at 11:40 o'clock.

Mr. Logan was born in Poland, O., April 25, 1849, the son of William and Mary McNabb Logan. He came to Xenia when 44 years of age, and was married one year later to Miss Amber Ruth Barnes, of this city. Mrs. Logan preceded him in death just nine months ago.

The first three years of Mr. and Mrs. Logan's married life was spent in Batavia and Troy, Ohio, residing since that time in this city.

Mr. Logan served the city for thirty years as city clerk, auditor, and was for thirty years secretary of the Woodland Cemetery Board, and was clerk of the City House Board for many years. He was a member of Trinity M. E. Church, since his residence in Xenia, and sang for forty years in the choir of that church. Mr. Logan was a member of a male quartette, and during the campaign of William McKinley for president, this quartette engaged actively in the meetings Mr. Logan having been a school mate of William McKinley, in the town of their birth. He was also a member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Henryetta Logan and Mrs. Willard R. Bennington, at home, Miss Floyd Allen of Dayton, and Mrs. Clyde Wharton of Cincinnati. His only surviving brother, W. C. Logan, has made his home at the Logan residence for several years, and his sister, Mrs. O. P. Shaffer, is at present in Washington, D. C. She spent the past summer at the Logan home in this city.

Mr. Logan represented a number of insurance companies in this district, being in years of service the oldest agent for the Fidelity and Casualty Company in Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from Trinity M. E. Church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with interment in the family plot at Woodland Cemetery.

FOREIGN BUYING POWER IS NEEDED HERE SAYS EXPERT

Columbus, Jan. 31.—"Since 1920, through the lack of purchasing power on the part of our best foreign customers, our farmers are left with a surplus of farm products on their hands."

There is no real remedy but to wait until the consuming and purchasing power again catches up—as they will before very long," asserted Prof. T. N. Carver, Harvard University, expert on economies, addressing an audience at the Ohio State University in connection with the annual farmers' week program.

Indications today are that last year's attendance—6192—will be exceeded this week Tuesday's attendance totalled more than 1,600 persons.

"Diversity in farming has been the saving factor in the life of the Ohio agriculturalist, and because of this, he has an advantage over the one crop farmers of the west and south," declared O. E. Bradfute, Xenia, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, at the third annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, President Bradfute, who will retire tomorrow as president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said the condition of Ohio farmers is better than that of farmers in any other state.

Murray D. Lincoln, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio federation stated that sentiment favorable to the federation movement is continually enlarging.

Slim, new full of the charm of youthfulness—a frock to satisfy the most ardent longing for individuality. Made for the daring of cherry red satin faced Canton crepe, with navy blue serge for the pleated strips and the quaint bertha.

In a sober mood this frock appears in all gray with a material just a shade or two darker for the trimming, and in beige, the color so much loved in Paris, the effect is delightful.

For a dressier effect the same idea may be carried out in dull or satin crepe, with strips on the skirts of self-material, and a deep bertha of ecru lace or embroidered batiste.

COURT NEWS

Sues on Account

The Greene County Hardware Company is plaintiff in an action in Common Pleas Court to recover a judgment in the sum of $185 with six per cent interest from September 6, 1922 alleged due on account, Marcus Shoup is attorney for the plaintiff.

Sewer District Approved

Plans for the construction of The Antioch Sanitary District, have been approved in Common Pleas Court.

Administratrix Appointed

Lola Simpson has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Louis B. Simpson, by Judge Marshall in Probate Court and has furnished $500 bond.

DENTIST SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Charging gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, Margaret E. Reynolds has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against Eber J. Reynolds, asking for divorce, alimony and custody of the infant daughter, Catherine. The plaintiff alleged they were married February 8, 1919, and lived with her parents until October, 1921, when she alleges the defendant deserted her, and has since refused to live with her or provide her a home.

Husband Wants Divorce

Charging gross neglect of duty, Lanzo C. Libecup has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Maud M. Libecup, for divorce. The Libecups were married September 25, 1906 and have two children, Silva and Eva.

SENATE ADOPTS HARDING'S PLAN

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The resolution offered by Senator Burke of Lorain county, asking President Harding to call an international conference for "world rehabilitation and to prevent another world war," was defeated in the senate.

The vote on the measure was: Against 27, for 5. Senators who voted for the resolution were: Adair, Wayne county; Garver, Holmes county; Bragg, Erie county; Gender, Cuyahoga county, and Burke. The first three are Democrats.

Immediately after the action on the Burke resolution, Senator Jenkins of Lawrence county introduced a resolution asking the Ohio senate to uphold and affirm the administration's foreign policy at this time.

Senator Burke asked that the Jenkins resolution be made a special order of business for tomorrow. Majority Floor Leader Kryder insisted that the measure be considered immediately. After a short debate, Jenkins' resolution was put to a vote and passed without a roll call.

The house passed the bill introduced by Representative Morgan of Cuyahoga county, providing for a thirteenth, or alternative juror, to be appointed at the discretion of the judge in civil or criminal cases which are liable to be protracted.

Efforts were made in the house to bring to a vote the bill of Representative Harding of Warren county requiring filing of lists of officers and members of the Ku Klux Klan. Action was deferred by a vote of 50 to 37.

A bill by Representative Cope of Columbiana county, increasing salaries of court stenographers from $2,800 to $3,600 in counties having two or more judges, and from $1,800 to $2,700 in counties having one judge, was passed by the house.

The house also passed a bill by Knapp of Medina county abolishing the office of township treasurer and transferring his duties to the township clerk.

Registration of Voters.

Permanent registration of voters is provided for in a bill introduced by Representative Davidson of Akron. If adopted by the legislature, his proposal would become effective in 1924. The bill provides for registration throughout the year with the board of election, subregistrars or with township clerks. Registration lists would be kept up to date by making necessary changes because of changes in residence, deaths or removals from the state. Persons registered and failing to vote at two consecutive general elections would forfeit their right to vote until registered again.

The effect of the bill would be to make it unnecessary for a person once registered to register at any other time except in the event of a change of residence, when his registration card would be corrected upon giving notice to the election authorities.

Representative Buchanan of Carroll county is the author of another one of several bills designed to aid in the enforcement of the "uniform rule" in taxation. Buchanan's bill would bar actions in court for fraud on notes, mortgages, certificates of deposit and the like, unless the note or contract used upon has been listed for taxation.

Stop Indigestion

Big Free Sample on Request. Usually the first dose of Dr. J. C. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder banishes an attack of acute indigestion because it is a powder immediately dissolved in the stomach and swift in action. In ordinary cases of indigestion, palpitation of heart, sour stomach, gas, bloating, heartburn and similar evils a single dose usually brings immediate relief. At most drug stores, 50c and $1.00, and money refunded if first box is not satisfactory. Jackson Medicine Co., Zanesville, Ohio.

SAYRE & HEMPHILL

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

Briefly, the "Better American Speech" subcommittee of which Mrs. Vernon M. Riegel, Columbus, is the head, plans to call attention to the beauty and flexibility of the English language, to correct the growing tendency toward slang, to circulate copies of the "English Creed," which has been approved by the General Federation "Better Speech" committee, and to suggest programs for stimulating a true appreciation of English.

Mrs. Riegel, who is the wife of Ohio's state director of education, now is busily engaged with plans for intensive work of her committee during the third week of February. Her committee forms a part of the division of education of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Wilmer H. Crawford, No. 2538 Vernon Place, Cincinnati, being the chairman.

"America, the Beautiful," the official song of the federation, has been arranged in three parts for women's voices and can be obtained free of charge. Address: Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, General Federation Music chairman, No. 520 Fine Arts building, Chicago. Postage should be enclosed.

Honoring Dr. Josephine Peirce, of Lima, Ohio Federation recording secretary, officers of the Childs Conservation League were hostesses at a luncheon in Marion Jan. 19 at the First Presbyterian Church. Following the luncheon, the guests repaired to the quarters of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs in the Marion National Bank building, where Dr. Peirce spoke on child-welfare work. She is the president of the Child Welfare League in Lima and was former head of that committee in the Ohio Federation.

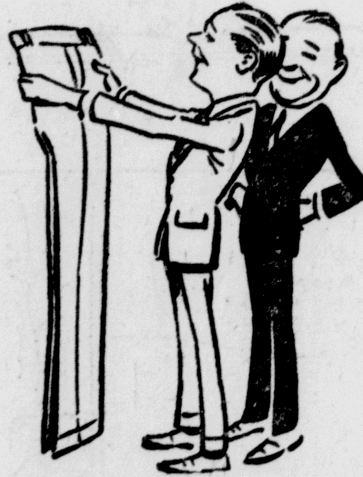

Sixty guests were entertained by the Unity Reading Circle at Newark at the home of Mrs. J. Rhoads, No. 48 East Church street. It was an event which Newark club women say will eclipse any similar affair.

The latest development in the Columbus Woman's Club is a lecture bureau. Mrs. L. P. Sever is the director and Mrs. W. H. Cleveland, assistant director. Fifty have registered as bureau members. There will be four or five lecture groups and these will be sent out on a circuit to lecture wherever and whenever they are wanted. The idea is not only to develop club talent, but an underlying thought is to raise money for a club home. Mrs. C. E. Blanchard, president of the club, may be addressed at Ohio Federation headquarters, Hotel Southern, Columbus.

Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, Chicago, chairman of the General Federation's music division of fine arts, is to speak under the auspices of the Columbus Woman's Club at the Hotel Deshler ball room the afternoon of Feb. 28. A special program of music is being prepared. Living pictures arranged by Mrs. Charles T. Howe, will be featured. Mrs. Oberndorfer will come to Columbus as the guest-lecturer of the public health department of the Columbus Woman's Club, this department entertaining the art, music, literature and drama "Fine Arts" departments upon this occasion. She will speak on "Music in the Home." An admission charge of 50 cents will

P. R. R. EMPLOYEES GET PROMOTIONS IN BIG SHAKE UP

Roy J. Olinger, assistant road foreman of engines of the Cincinnati Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, received a promotion in an extensive shakeup of officials of the System which will change considerably the executive personnel in Xenia and other places.

Mr. Olinger has been notified that he will be transferred to the St. Louis Division from the Cincinnati Division and will be promoted to assistant train master. S. L. Mider, trainmaster of the Cincinnati Division and located at Cincinnati, who is well known here, will be transferred to the Zanesville Division and will probably be located at Lancaster.

J. H. Everhart, former Xenian, who has been road foreman of engines at Cincinnati for a number of years, will be transferred to this city to take Mr. Olinger's place as assistant road foreman of engines here, a position he held a number of years ago. R. J. Sponseller succeeds him as road foreman of engines at Cincinnati.

F. M. Crowell, division engineer of the Cincinnati Division located at Cincinnati, will be transferred to the South Bend Division. He has had charge of the maintenance of way of the Cincinnati Division and is well known here. H. C. Johnson will succeed Mr. Crowell as division engineer and F. L. Davis will become the new trainmaster of the Cincinnati Division succeeding Mr. Mider.

Mr. Olinger was promoted to the position of assistant road foreman of engines of the Cincinnati Division and located here to succeed J. E. Daly, assistant train master, who had just been appointed to that position at the death of George H. Whitmer, former assistant trainmaster. He was formerly an engineer and has served in the present position three or four years.

Official announcement of the changes among the executives here, has just been made public. Other changes are said to be contemplated.

CHARLES WATTS IS CALLED BY DEATH

Charles Watts, 58, life-long resident of the vicinity of Byron, died at his home in that village Tuesday night at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of pneumonia and heart trouble. Before his illness, Mr. Watts conducted a grocery store at Byron where he was well known.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Lusetta Moore, of Zimmerman; one brother, David Watts, of Dayton, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Maulfair, of Springfield, and Mrs. Elizabeth Deam, of Trenton City, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the Byron Church, with interment at Byron Cemetery.

TO TALK ON "BETTER AMERICA" AT RINK

Colored ex-service men are invited to attend an illustrated lecture on "Better America" to be given at the Rink Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of John Roan Post, American Legion.

The lecture will be given by F. L. Tyler who will come here Thursday evening by automobile accompanied by E. L. King, manager of the Dayton Veterans' Bureau, under whose auspices Mr. Tyler is speaking at Memorial Hall, Dayton Wednesday evening.

The lecture here is one of a number being given in the territory supervised by King, and several hundred pictures are shown in connection with the talk. Former service men in training under direction of the United States Veterans' Bureau and claimants for compensation are invited to be present.

The basketball game scheduled for Thursday evening will be played after the lecture.

STRUCK BY AUTO; MAY DIE Akron, Jan. 31.—Struck by a racing automobile, Mrs. Beattie Martin, 30, was thrown in the path of a street car last night and dragged 30 feet before the motorman could stop. She is at the hospital with a fractured hip and possible internal injuries and may die. The driver of the auto did not stop.

IS FOUND DEAD Akron, Jan. 31.—After being missed for two days, Jesse Ramsey was found dead in his room at the International hotel here last night, when the proprietor forced the door. Coroner M. D. Crafts found death due to apoplexy.

STOPS PAYMENT ON CHECK FOR FINE. THEN CHANGES MIND

George Cline, Jamestown, changed his mind about paying a fine and then changed it back.

Cline was fined $700 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones Saturday on a charge of possessing liquor.

Tuesday, Cline wrote a check for the full amount, including the costs. Then it was he experienced his first change of heart. He stopped payment on the check.

Instead of paying the fine, Cline had the option of serving it out in the Dayton Work House. Armed with commitment papers, Deputy Sheriff John Baughn went to Jamestown to take him to the Dayton Works.

Then it was Cline experienced his second change of heart. He decided to pay the fine. He even went so far as to offer another check. But Deputy Baughn had an unpleasant memory about the first check drawn by Cline. He decided another stopped-payment causing another trip to Jamestown would be the height of folly. Instead, he accompanied Cline to the bank where the latter was forced to draw the amount in cash.

Carrying the $730 in his pockets, Mr. Baughn returned to this city where he turned the cash over to Magistrate Jones.

CEDARVILLE

The ladies of the United Presbyterian Church are planning for a musical and literary entertainment to be given by the Misses Dorothy and Florence Dyer of Columbus, Feb. 9th, at the United Presbyterian Church.

The Women's Missionary Society of the U. P. Church was held at the parsonage Monday afternoon. The program on India was in charge of Mrs. R. C. Watt. Mrs. Fred Townsley, Mrs. Ralph Townsley and Mrs. White assisted in the program, presenting the heritage of India. A question contest on the first chapter of "Building with India" was given. About sixty ladies were present. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. James White, Mrs. Auld, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. Carver and Mrs. Dean.

Mrs. R. J. Shultz, of Dayton, spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spencer.

Pres. W. R. Chesney left Friday for Waverly, where he addressed the Pike County Teachers Institute. On Sabbath he went to Lafayette, Ind., where he preached in the Central Presbyterian Church of which Rev. Wm. Kraham, D. D., is pastor.

McCloud Sterritt and Harold Myers who have been quite ill with pneumonia, are improving.

The Haggar Strawboard and Paper Company has been closed down for a couple of weeks for repairs.

Misses Ben Walton and Helen Kyne are spending the week end in Columbus with the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wahl.

Miss Lillian Hopper is spending the vacation between semesters in Cincinnati with relatives.

The grade and high schools are closed for another week on account of the epidemic.

Harold Myers who has been in a critical condition with pneumonia underwent an operation Monday, to remove the fluid from his lungs.

Some of my Housekeeper Readers have written me that the salads they served on their Christmas and New Year's dinner tables were not very satisfactory.

"Won't you please write on the making of dainty salads?" says these letters.

The average housewife does not serve many salads in winter time, except for some special occasion. For, in the coldest months she has not as much lettuce at hand as she has in summer—when she can run out to the kitchen garden and pick it—and then, too, she probably feels that a cold salad is not as satisfying as a hot dish in winter.

But the winter salad gets its in-lings when DAININESS is desired for a meal. On great occasions, or Holiday dinners, there is nothing that can make the table quite as attractive as a fancy salad. One of the two following might be tried:

Butterfly Salad: Cut one ring of canned sliced pineapple in half and lay these two semi-circles on a rather large flat lettuce leaf, so that the round parts of the pineapple slices touch. This makes the two wings of a butterfly. A whole walnut meat makes the butterfly's head; and two narrow strips of either red pepper or canned pimento, put one on either side of the nut, will suggest the antennae, or feelers. Two similar strips of the red pepper are put below the wings to finish the effect. Then the wings are decorated with a dab of Mayonnaise dressing on either wing.

Flower Salad: Take a whole slice of pineapple and lay upon it "petals" of red pepper. Stuff the whole in the slice of pineapple with cream cheese, sprinkle ground nut-meats on it, and serve with the following:

Golden Dressing for any Fruit Salad: Heat in a double boiler one-

fourth cup each of orange and pineapple juice added to one-fourth cup of lemon juice. Now beat two eggs light, add one-half cup of sugar to them, and add this mixture to the hot fruit juices. Cook till it "coats a spoon," as in making boiled custard. (For the eggs thicken the fruit juices). Then stand the double boiler top in a dish of cold water and beat its contents until smooth. When cold, fold in one-half cup of heavy cream which you have beaten stiff. This is delicious. It is a sweet dressing, containing, as you see, no condiments, vinegar or any other ingredient to give it a biting or sour taste. Children can eat salads made with this dressing when they refuse other kinds.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

DOREEN DECIDES TO GO HOME

When I heard them rise from the dinner table, I knew I should not be allowed to remain in solitude any longer, so I arose, unlocked the door, and when Walter came in I was making my hair tidy.

I had been unable to weep, so aside from an unusual paleness there was nothing in my appearance to cause comment.

He brought me a tray daintily spread with tea and crisp toast. Rather than talk, I tried to eat a little. Then, to my relief, his mother asked him to go to a motion picture with her.

She was fast becoming what he called "a fan" and invariably if she saw him act as if he intended to sit down quietly at home she would ask us to go.

"Do go," I urged. "I shall lie down again, perhaps go to bed." I had arrived at no conclusion, yet necessity for doing so weighed heavily as the moments passed. It was hard to play a part, act as if nothing had happened.

I sighed with relief when the door closed after them.

I truly loved Walter and I asked myself: "Does not true love mean sacrifice often? Does it not mean one perfects the loved one's happiness before their own? I had read of women, wives, stepping gallantly aside to make room for another whom the husband had learned to love."

Were they better women than I? Did they love their husbands more? To the last I answered unequivocally, no! Of the other questions I was not so sure of my answer.

I was just a plain home and husband loving woman without any particular talents.

Vashti Vernon was vivid, a beautiful flame. Beside her I was a nonentity. She was clever, scintillating, full of ardors. I had always been contented to sit back, to shine through the reflected light of my artist husband. She shone for him.

I felt a panic of helplessness. A great weariness came over me. I had tried to be a good wife, to be unselfish. I thought I understood my careless, lovable husband, thought I was doing the right to preserve our happiness, our home.

REVOLUTION NOW FACING GERMANY
SAYS BOLSHEVIST

Leonid Krassin, Head of
Trouble Near

No Alliance Between Soviet
and Germany is Thought Probable

London, Jan. 31.—Revolution, un-
loosed by French invasion, is at
hand in Germany, according to opinion expressed here today by Leonid
Krassin, head of the Russian trade
mission in London and probable successor of Nicolai Lenin, chief of the Moscow government.

Krassin said that, despite the
troubles of Europe and the likelihood
of an uprising in Germany there has
been no treaty of alliance between Germany and Russia. The soviet official made formal denial that the
compact signed during the Genoa
conference bore any military clauses
binding Russia to send troops into Germany in event of war.

"The United States, not Russia,
holds the key to the whole situation,"
said Krassin. "It is up to the United States to intervene for peace; not up
to Russia to intervene for war. Russia wants peace; not war. We want
food, clothing, raw materials, work
for our men and homes for our children; not bloodshed and famine and
suffering."

Krassin paused overcome by the vehemence of his own statement. He did not have the appearance of a Bolshevist. He looked like an Ameri-
can or British business man as he
sat correctly attired in his offices in
New Bond street—the Fifth Avenue
of London.

"French invasion of the Ruhr is a menace to world peace," said Krassin.
"That statement is neither new
nor sensational. The whole world
knows it. But it menaces prosperity
and peoples should weigh and consider this aspect. The whole situation in central Europe emphasizes
the thing we have been talking about
in Russia—the dangers that arise
from the greed of capitalistic governments. The French are not getting reparations by invasion; they
won't get them that way. They are merely bringing on a new war and
proving the contentions of the Russian communists. Russia holds that a
re-settlement is necessary under the treaty of Versailles. We believe that treaty will not stand."

"Is it your positive belief that French invasion will lead to German
revolution?" Krassin was asked.

"Yes, undoubtedly German revolu-
tion looms up in the near future, but
I hesitate to say whether or not it is
communist in character."

"The chances are that the first out-
break will spring from Monarchist
sources not bolshevist. But a speedy revolution is certain. There is so
much disorganization and suffering
in Germany that it must come. It is
the inevitable outcome of a law of
nature. Goaded peoples rise up in
violence and calmness follows."

It is reported that Krassin will
shortly be recalled to Moscow to succeed Lenin as head of the Russian government.

Asked if Russia and Germany would likely enter into a close alliance,
Krassin replied:

"In my judgment such an outcome
is unlikely. We Russians have the friendliest and most neighborly feelings towards Germany but the two nations are organically dissimilar. I
doubt if there is ever any close alliance between the two countries. We
are ready to give cordial support to Germany if Germany wishes to act
our way, but it is hard to picture
German and Russian soldiers fighting side by side. The differences between the two nations and the two peoples are so very wide. In fact I
cannot conceive of a German army
officer allowing one of his battalions
to be quartered near a Russian red battalion. It is impossible. Why any one who has observed the extraordinary differences between the two peoples knows that. It is visible to

REPEALS NEVADA'S DRY LAWS.

Carson City, Nev., Jan. 31.—The
state senate passed by a vote of 11
to 5 a resolution repealing all state
prohibition laws now on the statute
books. Proponents of the measure
argued that federal laws would keep Nevada as dry as anyone wants Nevada to be.

BABE SUFFOCATED.

Postoria, O., Jan. 31.—Milo Moon, aged 3 months, was found dead in bed by his mother, Mrs. Milo Moon,
here. The child had been suffocated.

Lubersac Agreement Will Not Be Fulfilled as Result of French Invasion—Disorders Are Reported From
Sections of Germany.

Essen, Jan. 31.—The Lubersac
agreement, by which a group of German industrialists headed by Hugo
Stinnes pledged themselves to assist
German indemnity payments by re-
building part of the devastated region of France, has been cancelled as
a result of French occupation of the Ruhr. It was stated by Rhineland
newspapers today. The agreement was negotiated through M. DeLubers-
sac, a member of the French Senate,
from whom it gets its name.

Disorders are reported from
Mayence, former headquarters of the French army of occupation on the Rhine. The railway strike has
paralyzed traffic in that region, as well as in the Ruhr.

French troops have occupied the Mayence railway station and terminal.

The Paris-Mayence express was
halted in the suburbs. The passengers
had to alight and take street cars to
get into the city proper.

Strikers seized a locomotive and
threw it into a ditch.

According to the French the Ruhr
will begin to feel real "isolation" at
the end of this week.

M. Letroquer, French minister of public works and Gen. Weygand, have arranged with the Belgian government for a subordinate civil mission
in the Ruhr under the orders of Gen.
DeGoutte, French commander, that will prepare "a durable organization". This indicates that the French
are officially preparing for a stay of indefinite length in the Rhineland
and Ruhr.

It is believed that French immigration into the Ruhr will be encouraged
as soon as conditions become settled
so as to "Frenchify" the district.

SEEK REPEAL OF TRANSPORTATION ACT IN SENATE

Brookhart Wants Railroad
Control Modified In Country

Washington, Jan. 31.—Into the
maze of legislative perplexities in the Senate, Senator Brookhart, Republi-
can of Iowa, shortly will inject a bill
repealing the Esch-Cummings transportation act and drastically modifying railroad control within the United States it was learned today.

While the Iowa Senator and sup-
porters of the proposal do not hold remotest hope for favorable action can
be secured at this time, they want
railroad legislation to be before the
force a change during the next Congress.

In many quarters Brookhart's move
as a result of inactivity of the administration to foster any alterations of
railroad regulatory measures, was
taken as a harbinger that the nationalization issue will be thrown into the 1924 campaign.

Legislative Services and the Conference for Progressive Political Action,
both of which are backed by labor
unions and favor nationalization,
there were strong intimations a certain element within the Democratic
party would advocate government
ownership of railroads.

It was said that at the recent meeting here between William G. Mc-Adoo and W. J. Bryan, a tentative
program embracing government ownership had been outlined and would
be put out to the country. Should the
reaction prove favorable the McAdoo-Bryan coalition would stand ready to
demand adoption of the program as a
regular and one of the most important planks in the party's platform.

After repealing the Esch-Cummings
act, the present law under which
railroads operate, Brookhart's bill
sets forth five important changes in
railroad administration:

- 1.—Restoration of the powers of
state public utilities over inter state
transportation questions.
- 2.—Limitation of the valuation of railroads to the market value of securities over a reasonable period of time. This, it is estimated, would reduce the valuation from about $19,
000,000,000 to $12,000,000,000.
- 3.—Stop capitalization of the un-
earned increment in real estate values.
- 4.—Definite adequate returns on a
basis not to exceed the interest on
the bonded portion of the capitaliza-
tion.
- 5.—Stop excess profits of subsidiary
corporations, such as companies supplying steel rails and coal.

MILEAGE BOOKS TO BE USED BY RAILS

Washington, Jan. 31.—All class one railroads in the United States were ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue non-transferable interchangeable mil-age books in $90 denominations to be sold for $72.

The tickets will be good for one year from date on all passenger trains, except special or extra fare trains. The order affects about 250 railroads.

STOLE PAYROLL

Suspects in Army Robbery
Are Captured By
Posse

MONEY IS RECOVERED

Sensational Affair Comes
to End Near Newport

Newport News, Va., Jan. 31.—The
two bandits who escaped with the
army payroll of $43,000 were captured
by a posse about 20 miles from here.

Corporals John Wood and James C.
Harvey of Langley field were identified by Captain Norman D. Cota, chief
finance officer of the field, as the men
who held up him and four companions
ton.

The men were captured in the woods near Big Bethel. Most of the money was recovered, it was added,
although the bandits had been forced
to abandon $5,000 in silver.

A vigorous search had been prosecuted for the two by military police
and department of justice officials,
and their capture was from the first
believed to be only a matter of hours.

The captain and the four who accompanied him were found nearly five
hours after the holdup, bound, gagged
and tied to trees near Big Bethel, be-
side their badly damaged automobile.
Their captors, they said, had escaped
into the woods with the money. The search was immediately begun, even scouting airplanes being used.

The holdup occurred when the
finance officer left the bank with the
payroll and stepped into his automobile to return to Langley field. According to witnesses one of the band-
its covered Captain Cota with two
revolvers, while his companion covered the others. All were ordered into
the automobile, which was then driven
at high speed toward Newport
News.

Roy Crockett of Hampton, one of
the witnesses of the holdup, said the
entire affair was carried out so meth-
odically that he thought an army
guard was merely arresting some military offenders. The man who covered
Captain Cota, according to Crockett,
calmly said, "Keep quiet or I'll blow
your head off."

Believe Conduct of Foreign

People's Wishes

Mulheim, Jan. 31.—"The mailed fist proclamation" of General De-Goutte, French commander in chief in the Rhineland, in which the French military chief plainly catered to German labor, has had just the opposite effect to that intended, it was evident here today.

This is the home of Hugo Stinnes,
the richest man in Germany and the head of the largest coal, coke, iron and steel industries taken over by French in Westphalia. It is possible in Mulheim to obtain the sentiment which prevails on both the side of labor and capital throughout the Rhineland.

France has been playing a dangerous game in trying to drive a wedge between labor and capital in the Ruhr. Results are now visible to the naked eye. German day laborers,

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The Senate has followed the example set by the House and adopted without opposition, a resolution endorsing President Harding's foreign policy.

The senators accepted a resolution,
offered by Senator Jenkins, Lawrence County, informing President Harding that the Ohio legislators believe his conduct "of our foreign affairs in these trying times" is in full accord with the president's mandate from the people.

The Senate today will be asked to concur in the action of the House, which passed the Spindel and Bloom bills. The Spindel bill provides that all candidates for state and local offices, to be filled in 1924, will be nominated at the April primaries
when the national convention delegates are chosen and when the presidential preference vote is registered.
The Bloom bill extends the absent voters privilege to sick and disabled voters.

The Senate health committee has indefinitely postponed the Kummer
bill which sought to prevent nurses from administering anaesthetics. By a vote of 50 to 37, the House acted favorably on a motion by Representative Harding, Warren County that his bill requiring filing of lists of officers and members of the Ku Klux Klan with the Secretary of State be placed at the foot of the House calendar. The motion was made when the bill came up for passage late yesterday.

son, Frank Lashur, in that village,
Monday afternoon at three o'clock.
Death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, his health having been exceptionally good until the past few months.

Mr. Lashur formerly resided in the neighborhood of Mount Zion, moving from there to New Burlington, coming to Spring Valley several years ago. His wife died a number of years ago, the following children surviving: Mrs. Emma Moore Harveysburg; Mrs. Kate Hagler, Sandusky; John Lashur, of Alpha, and Frank Lashur, of Spring Valley. Two brothers, one residing at Greenville,
and one at Springfield, also survive.
Funeral services will be held at the late home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with interment at Mount Zion Cemetery.

OFFERS TURKEY ANOTHER PEACE PROGRAM ALONE

Anglo-French Accord Is Brought to the Breaking Point

TREATY IS SEPARATE

England Ignored in Latest Move On Part of the Invaders

London, Jan. 31.—Anglo-French accord, which was endangered by French invasion of the Ruhr was again brought to the breaking point today by news from Lausanne that the French have deserted the British and are offering to make a separate peace treaty with Turkey.

Although the foreign office issued a statement saying that there had been no break in the accord of the British and French over the Near East, it is learned that Premier Bonar Law is incensed by French proceed-ure.

The premier is said to believe that Great Britain is put in the position
where she must "retreat" from her Near East program or fight the Turks in the event of war it probably would be Great Britain and Greece lined up against Turkey. Turkey would stand no chance of victory but could put up stiff guerrilla warfare for a long time.

ENTENTE NOT WORKING.

For the time being the Anglo-French entente is not working. It has lapsed, but is not officially dead. Italy, fearing a general European conflagration over the quarrel between London and Paris, is looking for a chance to mediate. The French ambassador at Rome is reported to have informed Premier Mussolini that France would welcome Italian arbitration in the Near East.

Foreign office officials were very guarded in their comment on France's course. They said they were loath to regard France's Near East policy
as a breach of the Anglo-French entente.

They were more disposed, they said, to believe that France was working to prevent a complete collapse of the Near East peace negotiations.

Although Lord Curzon has reported that the Lausanne situation "could not be darker," British officials are hopeful that the Turks will accept the allied peace terms.

London, Jan. 31.—The British dreadnought Ajax sailed for the Near East today. It is under orders to anchor off the British fortress at Chankon on the "narrows" of the Dardanelles. Nearly the entire British fleet is now in Turkish waters, prepared for hostilities.

Paris, Jan. 31.—French government officials were not disturbed today
over the new friction with the British and the threat of an Anglo-French break.

"France has repeatedly informed the British of her Near East intentions," it was stated at the foreign office.

High School Boy Victim Of Drugs Attempts Suicide

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Driven desperate by "dope," George Roth, 18 years old, a student at Lane Technical High School, shot himself early today and is near death at Passavant hospital.

Roth told his father A. J. Roth and the police, that he is a victim of a
"dope" seller, who has been "growing rich by selling drugs to students at the high school."

The boy, who was to have graduated tomorrow, had left two notes to his father, one of which ended with this line:

"Please watch the other kids."

The police immediately began an investigation. They were of the opinion that many pupils at the school
are victims of the "dope" peddler.

Lying in the hospital with the police and his father bending over him, the youth told a pathetic story
of his drug experiences.

One day last October, he said, he was suffering from a toothache. A fellow student told him he could get medicine to stop the pain. He went to the man and was given a "shot."

From then on it was "one shot after another."

It began to tell on him, the boy said. He felt shaky, unnerfed at times—not himself. He shunned
some of his old friends.

Then he quit school. That was months ago. Since then he has been worried that his parents would find out.

Graduation immediately imminent,
he could not hide his disgrace from his parents any longer, he thought.

Athens Jan. 31.—With plague rampant among the thousands of refugees from Thrace and Asia Minor crowding this city and the port of Piraeus, the populace is becoming panic stricken.

pray pitifully for deliverance from the plague.

Refugees kneeling at prayer of ten dead from small pox.

The swarms of ill-clad exiles who wander hopelessly through the streets have brought another scourge to Athens. Meningitis has broken

INTELLIGENCE IN WORLD VERY LOW SAYS PROFESSOR

Cleveland, Jan. 31.—"Sixteen and one-half per cent of the human race has only the intelligence of the fifteen-year-old," declared Dr. H. H. Goddard, professor of psychology at the Ohio State University and former director of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research in an address late yesterday at Lakewood Presbyterian Church.

"Seventeen per cent of the children have no business in school after their fifteenth year, as schools are run now," continued Goddard. "Ten per cent of the human race has intelligence less than that of the normal 15-year-old, and we are making criminals of them by turning them against the government."

Dr. Goddard proposed an alteration of school curriculum to give special training in manual crafts to children whose intelligence never exceeds the normal level of the 15 year old.

BORAH'S PLAN NOT TO CHANGE HARDING

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Harding's belief that a world economic conference at this time is impracticable, is in no way altered by the reintroduction of the Borah resolution in the Senate, it was stated officially at the White House. The same elements that moved Mr. Harding to announce his opposition to such a conference some time ago, namely, the unwillingness of European nations to submerge.

In addition to financial matters, the conference suggested by Borah would also consider the limitation of auxiliary vessels of 10,000 tons displacement and of aircraft. The resolution provided:

"That the president is authorized and requested to invite such governments as he may deem necessary or expedient to send representatives to a conference which shall be charged with the duty of considering economic problems now obtaining throughout the world with a view of arriving at such understandings or settlements as may seem essential to the restoration of trade and to the establishment of sound financial and business conditions; and also to considering the subject of further limitation of armaments with a view of reaching an understanding or agreement upon said matter both by land and by sea, and particularly relative to limiting the construction of all types and sizes of sub-surface and surface craft of 10,000 tons standard displacement, or less and of aircraft."

NEW JASPER

Mrs. Rhoda Smith was the week end guest of friends and relatives in Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Turner who have been visiting friends and relatives for the past two weeks at Kokomo, Indiana, returned home the first part of the week.

The marriage of Mr. Daniel Turner to Mrs. Myrtle Trubee, of Dayton, was solemnized at the New Jasper Church parsonage, the Rev. C. N. Smith, officiating, last Monday evening. A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Turner met them upon their return home and gave them a "chivaree" a delicious feast being served later.

Mr. Ross Huston, received numerous bruises when he was dragged a considerable distance by a coil, belonging to Mr. William Fudge, several days ago. Dr. R. L. Haines, attended Mr. Huston following the accident.

Funeral services for Mr. Hiram H. Fawcett, 72, were held at the late home, at one o'clock, Monday afternoon, in charge of his pastor, the Rev. C. N. Smith. Burial was made at Woodland cemetery, Xenia. The pall bearers were O. M. Spahr, James Jones, Vernon Jones, and Merle Jones. Protracted meetings which were to have begun at the New Jasper Church, last Sunday have been postponed until Monday evening, Feb. 15.

Mr. Fred S. Dale, and family moved into the property of Mrs. Raper Sutton, where Mr. Dale will conduct a pool room, and grocery.

Mr. H. Levi Smith, will hold his annual Hampshire Bred sow sale, Thursday February 1, on the Hampshire farm, adjoining the village. Mr. Smith has some of the finest bred sows and fall and spring gilts in the state of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Baughn, and daughter, Grace, were shoppers in Dayton, Saturday.

Mr. Elbert Bales, and family, of near Paintersville, are moving to one of the Dr. Davis farms, this week.

BELLBROOK MAN DIES WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Owen Tiffany, of West Third Street, received word Wednesday morning of the death of her uncle, Joseph Peterson, 70, who died at his home in Bellbrook, Wednesday morning at 9:15 o'clock. Mr. Peterson had been ill for several weeks.

He is survived by his wife and three sons. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

MINSTREL SHOW IS SAID FIRST CLASS

Lovers of regular, old-time minstrelsy, and they are legion, are welcoming the announcement of the coming of Gus Hill's and George Evans' combined "Honey Boy" Minstrels, which appear at City Hall Theater Friday night.

Gus Hill's Minstrels are as well known as any troupe of black-face artists that ever travelled in this section, and the announcement of the combination with George Evans, indicates that these two leaders of minstrelsy in their combined company, are able to offer an evening of real entertainment.

The cream of the talent from both troupes, was skinned by the managers in selecting the comedy artists who go to make up the "Honey Boy" troupe. As a result the company offers more than the old-time minstrel circle and black-face jokes, for there will be bits, travesties, reviews, novelties, surprises, real song hits, real music syncopated and straight; melodies that linger, vocalists who know how to use their gifts to the best advantage, frolic, revelry, contagious laughter, wit, repartee and fun. The production plays here one night through engagements with the Standard Amusement Company.

CLIFTON

School will be opened Monday, Jan. 29, if enough pupils are able to attend to conduct the classes.

Mrs. Rachel Wragg is visiting for awhile in the Garlough neighborhood, near Pichin.

Mr. E. J. McCullough will have a sale Tuesday, preparatory to moving into their house on Clay St.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Preston have returned home from Oklahoma, where they spent the Holidays with Mr. Preston's sister.

Mr. Ed. W. Wing accompanied by Eron Linson, attended the sale of Wing Band at Urbana, Ohio on Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hopping was called to Dayton last week on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Clinton Sparrow.

A vaudeville show will be held in the Opera House every night next week, beginning Monday.

Mr. Albert Pearson and Mrs. Alice Richardson were married by Rev. Mr. Scott of Xenia M. E. Church last week. They will reside in Mr. Pearson's home on Clay St.

Carson Webster is sick in bed with grippe.

The sympathy of this community is given Mrs. Mildred Corry Foster in the death of her little daughter, Charlotte, lobar pneumonia, following whooping cough, last Sunday night.

BASKETBALL

FAMOUS AUTOS TRIM DABCOS 60 TO 21;

HIGH FIVE TO MEET GREENFIELD M'CLAIN FRIDAY

EMERALDS DROP ONE—OTHER SPORT GOSSIP

Bolen Gets New Athletics.

Bob Fisher, well-known Ohio Northern athlete, captain of this year's basketball team from the Ada school and an all-Ohio football athlete, who resigned from that institution last week has entered Wilmington College, it is announced.

Fisher became disgusted at Northern, it is said, when his basketball team failed to make a good showing on the court, this year and packing his grip, he left the institution flat. Coach "Shifty" Iolen, of Wilmington, formerly of Northern, is thought to have induced Fisher to enter the Quaker school. Former Coach "Chick" Harper of Wilmington, is now on the faculty of Northern, where his father is head of the department of law.

When Harper left Wilmington several of the crack athletes who had helped to make the little school known in sport circles during his regime, left also in sympathy with him. As a result the Wilmington basketball team has not been setting the world on fire and with the addition of Fisher and Cal Zeigler, Columbus East High star, the Quaker court combination is expected to be strengthened.

Kingman Sets New High Mark.

Kingman High School basketball team, which has been going at a lively clip all season, hung up a high scoring mark, Saturday night by defeating Springboro High, of Warren County, 123 to 2. Henry Carter, playing forward for the Kingman aggregation, connected with the baskets for 23 field goals.

AUTOS BURY DABCOS FIVE

With "Biddy" Harlow and Joe Mark bearing the bulk of the scoring the Famous Autos annexed their third home game of the season in rather easy fashion Tuesday night on the new high school gym court from the Dayton Dabcos. The score at the end of the 40 minutes of play was 60 to 21 with the local athletes hugging the long end of the court.

The Dabcos started out world beaters and had six points before the Famous bunch got going. Scott started the scoring for the visitors with a long one from the center of the court and Willowite and Hass also turned in sensational baskets from mid-floor but at this time Solimano started things going for the locals with a toss from the 17 foot line, Barlow and Mark each registered with fielders from underneath the basket while Solimano then tossed another foul and Barlow threw a long one.

At this time the visitors got busy and baskets by Willowite and Hass put them on the lead the score standing 10 to 8, but Barlow, Mark and Koester each horned in with baskets which put Xenia in the lead for good. Mark made one just as the half ended the score at this time being 20 to 10 with the Famous five holding the lead.

In the second half the local athletes pulled them selves together and scored forty points. The guarding and passwork of the locals was one bright feature while their offense was high class. "Biddy" Harlow played a great game for the Famous gang, he was all over the court while he also a shining light with seven and Solimano and Solowitz also took a prominent part and kicked in with three and two respectively. Koester played a fine game at center and his defensive work was also good.

Willowite was the star for the Dabcos his long shots keeping the fans on their toes all the way. Hass and Scott also played well. The visitors fought hard but were simply out-classed.

Next Tuesday evening at the High Gymn there will be three games the first will be between the Merchants and the Emeralds and the second will bring together two girls teams of Dayton playing under boys' rules while the Famous will meet some team yet to be announced. Lineup and summary:

XENIA TO PLAY GREENFIELD

Paul Boxwell, former Central High star athlete, will have charge of the Central High basketball team when it goes to Greenfield to play McClain High Friday night.

Coach Earl "Puss" Burgner is spending the enforced vacation caused by the grip epidemic at his home in Akron, and rehearsals for the Greenfield game have been placed in charge of Boxwell, who acted as assistant coach in complete charge of the squad during the Christmas vacation.

The blue and white team has been kept busy dropping court games to teams from near and far recently, and the small crowd at last week's performance indicated a slump in box office receipts. If "Boxy" can inject a little of the winning qualities that characterized the team he captained

FAMOUS FIVE BEATS EMERALDS

The Famous Juniors five, heretofore cellar chaps in the Municipal League, engineered a surprise in the loop game preliminary to the Famous Autos—Dabco clash at the high gym Tuesday night by taking a fall out of the L. E. John Emeralds, second-place holders, by the score of 15 to 14.

It was a considerably re-enforced outfit that took the floor under the name of the Famous Five Tuesday night, Owens, Heery and Day having been added to the lineup to replace athletes who have dropped out. The game was fast and marked by close guarding. Owens, Muterspaw and Curlett starred for the Famous team while Yeakley, Skelly and the Davis brothers played well for the Emeralds. The lineup and summary:

Famous (15) Emeralds (14)
Owens L. F. Skelly (c)
Muterspaw (c) R. F. Yeakley
Heery C. L. Davis
Day L. G. F. Davis
Curlett R. G. Fuller
Field Goals: Owens 2, Muterspaw 3, Day 1, Curlett 1, Yeakley 3, Skelly 2, L. Davis 1. Foul goals: Muterspaw 1, L. Davis 2, Referee: Rachford. The victory gives the Famous five a better standing and a chance to take a fall out of the Merchants, the loop leaders.

CONAN DOYLE LOST IN PLEA FOR SPIRITUALISTIC HEALERS.

Training spiritualistic mediums for healing disease would not be for the public benefit, according to a decision given in the Chancery Court, London. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's affidavit to the efficacy of mediumistic healing was rejected by the court as "not worth being classified as evidence—nothing but a vague expression of opinion and lacking in detail."

The court invalidated a bequest of $15,000 by Gustave Hummelburg to the London Spiritualistic Alliance for the foundation of a college for instructing persons in healing diseases through the utilization of supernatural powers. The bequest was challenged by other organizations benefiting under the will. The alliance introduced an affidavit by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and other testimony of an attempt to show such a college for mediums would benefit humanity, but the court reserved judgment after pointing out the lack of evidence showing what the curriculum of such a college would be.

The Judge declared the alliance had failed to satisfy him the bequest would be for the public benefit or of such a kind as might be controlled by the courts.

THE BOYDEN AFFAIR.

When the American Peace Commission came home in 1919 an unofficial representative was left in Paris to report upon the reparations body then forming and to safeguard American interests. The Reparations Commission became one of the most powerful and important bodies in the world. It was necessary that we have first-hand information about it. On the eve of the Harding accession this representative was withdrawn; but the new regime felt the same need of keeping in close touch. So the representative was reinstated and became known as an observer. He could talk but he could not vote. His business was to observe and report.

R. W. Boyden is an able and distinguished Boston lawyer who had served under the Wilson regime in exactly the same position he now holds in Paris. The Harding Administration put him back on the job. He is a man of brains and it may be of more initiative than is good for an observer. He evolved a memorandum on reparations, a "purely personal" plan not approved by the State Department. So far as known, it was fairly innocuous and void of anything startling. It happened to become known at the time when the French were moving in the Ruhr and straightway assumed an importance that was not justified. At any other time it would have caused little comment one way or another.

THE AUTOMOBILE A PROPERTY BOOSTER.

The value of the automobile in increasing rural property values has hardly been given the consideration it deserves. An economist explains that the automobile renders all land more valuable by making it more available—more accessible. That is evident to anyone who thinks the matter over.

The matter is complicated by the fact that with the advent of the motor car comes the inevitable demand for better roads. Then a quarrel arises as to who should pay for the roads. Rural communities have a propensity for insisting that the motor car owners, who live mostly in the adjoining cities, should pay the bulk of it. Accordingly, there is always an insistent demand for higher automobile taxes.

Those urging such taxes disregard the immense benefit to adjacent property owners from those same roads. A boulevard system built a few years ago north of Chicago, at a cost of $16,000,000, is said to have added at once $150,000,000 to the value of abutting property. That was suburban property. Along a more strictly rural route between two cities in another state, a thirty mile stretch of pavement recently completed at a cost of $2,500,000 is estimated to have added immediately $20,000,000 to the value of farm land through which it passes.

A more careful consideration of such facts as these might deter legislative bodies from levying new and burdensome taxes on the automobile owners, who are taxed pretty heavily already.

WORKING FOR CHILDHOOD.

The children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor has been functioning only a little more than ten years. When it was established in 1912 it was the first public policy in the world, "directed to consider as a whole the problems of childhood and child life."

Since that time interest in and understanding of child welfare has been spreading steadily. Today there are forty-six state bureaus dealing with child health; there was but one in 1912. The number of states providing mothers' pensions have increased from two to forty. Forty-two states are now availing themselves of the aid provided in the Sheppard-Towner maternity act. In more than half the states special bureaus are looking out for the interests of dependent, neglected or delinquent children.

It has been a decade of progress and promise, both in regard to the work of the national children's bureau and that of state and local child welfare organizations. Every child who has been given health, education and protection from exploitation is so much national wealth conserved. And through the work of rescuing these children the public is slowly being taught how to eliminate the unwholesome and evil conditions from which the children are rescued.

The maximum weight limit on parcel post packages sent from the United States to Austria has been increased from 11 pounds to 22 pounds.

It is estimated that 10,000,000 flashlights are used in the United States; over 5,000,000 are sold annually.

No less than 1077 children under 16 years of age are employed in the sugar beet fields of Colorado.

Washington County, Pennsylvania, turned out nearly one-half of all the radium produced in the United States in 1920.

More than 12,228,514 pounds of maple sugar was produced in the province of Quebec, Canada, during the spring of 1921.

A resolution has been introduced in the Canadian House of Commons providing for the coining of a 100 per cent nickel five-cent piece.

WONDER HOW A DINING CAR WAITER MANAGES TO KEEP SO GOOD NATU RED?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The stable belonging to Mrs. Pettigrew, which was recently damaged by fire is being replaced by a new building, which will be used by the Standard Manufacturing Company, of this city.

The ordinance providing for the establishment of public scales and for a public weigher for all coal sold by Xenia dealers came up for its second reading at the meeting of the city council last night and was the subject of a good deal of discussion.

From all that is known now of the murder of Jacob Harris at Cedarville, it promises to go down into history as one of the dark crimes of the county which will go unpunished, there not being any clue, upon which further work can be done.

Mrs. C. W. Linkhart has been spending a few days in Springfield where she is the guest of Mrs. Grant Minnich.

ARTFULLY WAVED HAIR

Wavy hair has so many advantages that no one wonders it is almost universally coveted.

That's what I want to impress upon more than half the straight haired girls who write me for hair waving directions. But it's hard to say which type face looks best with straight or waved hair; it's necessary to see the face and even then, one can judge wrongly. Generally, the dark haired tall, sedate type looks nicest with straight hair; beyond that, generalities are impossible.

But there are many times when any soft wave is better than straight locks. For instance, if you are tired and your very features seem "draggy", then waved hair will make you appear fresher and younger, perhaps because it will add a touch of frivolity to your expression, and tiredness is anything but frivolous! And after soft

be sure you do so all over the head. Nothing odder or more unnatural exist than tight waves in front and straight hair in back.

Brunette—Your problem is one for a physician and not a beauty specialist.

I would certainly advise you, if you can get no satisfaction from your present doctor, to see another one. You quite rightly had the hair shaved after the fever. Keep it shaved or very short and rub the scalp with hot olive oil every few days until the dandruff has disappeared.

Once the scalp is healthy the short hairs will cease falling.

Tomorrow—Beauty And Motherhood.

THE GAZETTE And THE REPUBLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information Box," this paper.

Statistical—Figures show that over $2,500,000,000 is the annual world waste due to rust and corrosion of metals.

My XYZ—New York is so named after the Duke of York, who was a great favorite at the beginning of the Seventeenth century. When the Pilgrims first landed here, they called it New Amsterdam, but when the English government took over the colony, it was renamed after the nobleman.

Collector—The earliest postage stamp ever issued was about 1840. H. G. W.—You are quite right. Tortoises and turtles have no teeth.

Inquisitive—The Vatican, the papal residence of Rome, contains 11,000 apartments.

Fisherman—Sword fish range from 4 ft. to 15 ft. in length, the sword itself is about 3 ft. long in some cases.

Peg—The Woolworth Building, in New York City, has 57 stories, and it is said that one of its elevators travels 40 miles and makes 4,000 stops daily.

THE UNFORTUNATE.

When you sit before your fire, on a stormy winter night, everything you could desire, every luxury in sight, do you ever sadly think of the hungry, homeless gink, who has nothing fit to drink, nothing comforting to bite? You have doughnuts in a crock, you have mince and pumpkin pies, you have liverwurst in stock, bacon in the larder lies; and along the frozen street, trudging on their weary feet, suffering for things to eat, go a hundred famished guys. You've a bed in which to sleep, and it is a stately bed, with its mattress soft and deep, and its blankets striped with red; in the alley grim and dark, or in yonder windswept park, lie the homeless, cold and stark, with a frosty sky o'erhead. And your thoughts in comfort drift to some platitudes threadbare; if they'd only practice thrift, they would not be freezing there; if they'd prudent be, like you, salting down a plunk or two, they would have a bed in view, and a nifty bill of fare. So to charity's appeal you present the frozen face; you can't spare a single wheel for the poor who haunt the place; and you listen to the storm, and your fire is good and warm, and you nurse your fat old form in your comfort—and disgrace.

Today's Talk

The Burglary of Fear

The more you fear, the more you cheat yourself. Fear is like a burglar in your home, taking that which it has neither earned nor owned.

The very thought of fear sends poison through the entire body.

If you fear to fail, the chances are that you will fail. But your failure is almost sure to be merely the failure of fear.

What a teacher against fear of Jesus was! All through his ministry you will come across words like these: "Fear not"—"Be not afraid"—"Let not your heart be troubled."

And whoever knew a great leader who had fear in his heart? Fear not only steals from the choicest materials in our mental and bodily make-up, but it takes up the room that healthy thought might be occupying.

How few of our fears have any ground whatsoever!

The fearful, worried mind stands an object to be lashed and slashed by every passing force that is destructive in its aim.

Fear not—and it matters not at all where you go, or when you go. You will lead. You will conquer. You will be your greatest self.

There is no bluster about the one who has abolished fear. Sanity, serenity and innate strength prevail.

A reserve of power is laid aside in him who will not fear.

NO REST--NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "I suffered with 'ame back, but the most annoying symptoms was the irregular action of my kidneys. I felt languid when I arose in the morning and it seemed I never could get any rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at 'Jones' Drug Store, and they helped me immediately and the second box cured me entirely."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mrs. Pohl said: "I am glad to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the one reliable kidney remedy that cured me of kidney trouble some years ago. I have had no further occasion to use Doan's but I am glad to confirm the statement I gave in 1917 in behalf of this remedy."

CHARGE EMPLOYEES ACTED ILLEGALLY IN SCHOOL CONTRACT

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Claim that employees of the Akron board of education acted illegally in an unbusinesslike manner in connection with the construction of the Perkins school building, costing $572,399, built in 1920 and 1921, is contained in the report of State Examiner B. B. Vance, covering a special examination of the records of construction of the Perkins, Crouse and McElbright school buildings at Akron. The report was made public today by State Auditor Tracy. The examination was made as a result of complaints by Akron citizens.

Examiner Vance, however, pointed out that no matter how unfair the alleged transactions may have been, the Perkins building is finished and in use and "as usual, the tax payers are the losers." To try to recover the loss, he said, would be a long drawn out and expensive task and "would probably end in naught." He declared complaints should be always made during the construction of a building. Then, by refusal of payments by the school board, more beneficial results can be accomplished than through prosecution.

JAMESTOWN

The second interscholastic debate between the pupils of the Jamestown High School and Beavercreek High will be held at the Jamestown opera house on Friday evening, February 2. Those representing Jamestown will be Lillie Brock, Leona Doster, Ruth Straley. Jamestown takes the affirmative of the subject. Resolved, "That it would be more conducive to peace if all the nations were prepared for war."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Liles were called to Cincinnati, last week, on account of the death of Mrs. Liles' mother, Mrs. Anna Dallman, who passed away very suddenly, and had been in apparently good health. Mrs. Dallman had visited here a number of times.

Mrs. Harry Black has been very seriously ill, suffering from an attack of grip, which is prevalent here.

Glen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Pryor, has returned home from Knoxville, Tenn. He was a student at Kimberlin Heights, Tenn.

Mrs. M. F. Titus is in Cincinnati this week, attending the millinery openings, and buying her stock of spring goods. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. F. Harper.

Mrs. Will Sutton issued invitations to thirty-three children to help celebrate the ninth birthday of her daughter, Mary, on Thursday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:30. The time was merrily spent in playing games and with music. Nearing the close Mrs. Sutton, assisted by Mrs. Florence Fields, served refreshments, consisting of cake, ice cream, candy and punch. Miss Mary was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts.

Mrs. J. A. Beran and Mrs. R. D. Bryan were mid-week visitors at Washington, C. H.

Mrs. Viora Haines spent the week end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jackson, near Wilmington.

Mr. W. W. Barnett has bought what is known as the farm of the late Rev. Henry Smith, on the Jamestown-Bowersville pike, and will take possession the first of March. The beautiful new home of the Barnetts, in Jamestown, is for sale.

Miss Ella Taylor spent the week-end in the country, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Miss Margaret Lackey was hostess to the members of her Sunday School class, on Saturday afternoon. At the close of the business session, dainty refreshments were served, which added to a delightful social hour.

On Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fenker and Mrs. Will Sutton attended the revival services at the Friends' Church, at New Burlington, which are being conducted by Miss Bertha Day, who will continue the services all this week.

Miss Bess Barker has accepted the position of night operator at the local

telephone exchange, in place of Miss Maud Sharp.

Mr. C. E. Pearson is confined to his room with a severe attack of grip.

The Bible class in the public schools is being taught this semester by N. C. Bangham and J. Carl Pryor, pastors of the M. E. Church and of the Church of Christ. Thirty pupils are enrolled, the largest of the kind in the county. The class is greatly interested in this study.

Mrs. Ford Latham is gradually improving from a serious illness resulting from an attack of grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bishop are recovering from the grip, which has confined them to their home for several days.

The Jamestown Boy Scouts will give an entertainment, "The Knights of the Table," will be shown in eight reels at the Venard Theater on Wednesday evening the 31st. This is for a benefit.

The Jamestown high school basketball team have employed Tyrus Kraegan as coach. He is now playing with the Delco team at Dayton. By profession Mr. Kraegan is a baseball player and plays shortstop on the St. Louis baseball league. The Jamestown team has felt the need of such a coach in order to compete with other teams who have had such training. Coach Kraegan will be in Jamestown two evenings each week. On Thursday evening February first the Jamestown teams—boys and girls—will play the Beavercreek teams on the local floor.

The Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Gray will have for their guests this week, the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Gray of Sumnerfield, Kansas and Mrs. J. F. Heron, of Sterling, Kansas. They came to Jamestown from New Concord, O. where their mother, Mrs. Mary Gray was buried on last Saturday.

On Friday evening the second basketball team of Jamestown and the girls' team went to Ross Township to play their first teams. The Jamestown boys were defeated to the tune of 32 to 9 and the Ross girls just played all around the Jamestown team. They apparently offered no resistance as the score attests 63 to 7. However, they were handicapped by three of their best regulars being on the sick list.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church will have an all day meeting at the parsonage, Friday the second. After the routine of business is transacted the time will be occupied with sewing and a linen shower for the benefit of a hospital at Knoxville, Tenn., to which the Jamestown Church contributes. A luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

Friends of Mrs. J. Gray are sorry to learn that she has been confined to her home with grip but hopes to be up by Friday.

The members of the Jamestown Grange are invited to a meeting of the Pomona Grange, at Yellow Springs, on Wednesday evening, at which time the county officers will be installed. Elmer H. Smith is Over-seer-elect and Mrs. G. M. Keach is Secretary both of the Jamestown Grange.

Mrs. Charles McDill has bought the property of the late M. T. McCroight, on East Main Street and she with her daughter Miss Dena, who is now at Melbourne, Fla., will occupy it as a home.

The Union services will be held on next Sunday evening, and the sermon will be by either the Rev. L. L. Gray or by his brother W. R. Gray, who is visiting here and who will probably preach at the United Presbyterian Church, on Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. H. Rockhold will be the hostess to the members of the Rural Improvement club, on Wednesday afternoon. Responses to roll call will be "My Resolutions as a Church Member for the Current Year." "Sketches from the Life of Benjamin Franklin." Mrs. J. H. Turner. "Incidents of the Life of President McKinley." Mrs. A. G. Paulin. Music will be furnished by the hostess. A luncheon will be served during the social hour.

Bible School of the Church of Christ is a contest was on between the classes of Charles Leach and of that of Mrs. Ray Murray, the latter's class winning by a few points. On Tuesday evening the losing class will banquet the winners at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leach.

No more Rheumatism

Suffering has gone from your face, mother!

S. S. S. is the Great Builder of Red Blood-Cells and Rheumatism Must Go! Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed. It's all gone, every bit of it! It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glow again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run down, tired men and women, beautiful complexion, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

DOLLARS AND "SENSE" AS APPLIED TO DRUGS

Any sane person is not looking for "cheap" drugs—but most anyone would welcome lower prices provided the quality remained up to the same high standard which he has always set for such goods.

That's just what is being done at our store. The public's wishes for lower prices are being respected by us—but a certain high standard is maintained consistent with the superior class of merchandise which we handle.

As prices are reduced on various lines the public will be advised through our newspaper announcements. Watch for these Ads and also our Window Displays.

MRS. M. BAHRKE, COLUMBUS, O.
Pennsylvania Avenue Couple Very Much Improved in Health After Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mrs. M. Bahrke, who lives at 839 Pennsylvania Avenue, Columbus, praises Ka-di-ok very highly for having relieved her of a bad case of stomach trouble and also for the improved state of health of her husband. In a signed statement, she says: "I was bothered with stomach trouble and indigestion for a considerable time. On account of feeling so distressed and miserable after eating, I lost all desire to sit down and eat a decent meal, and many different things I would have enjoyed I did not dare to eat, as I felt sure they would upset me. I was very sleepless at night and was weak and indisposed all the time. I am very thankful to be able to say that after taking Ka-di-ok I have a keen appetite and am now able to eat any food I care for without being bothered at all afterwards. In other words, my food digests perfectly. I sleep well now and am stronger and in better health than I have been in many months. My husband also took Ka-di-ok and it helped him wonderfully. I cannot praise Ka-di-ok too highly. It has helped persons suffering from stomach trouble. If Ka-di-ok relieves every one like it did me and my husband, it is indeed a blessing to humanity."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

CLINT F. LOGAN IS CALLED BY DEATH TUESDAY EVENING

After a week's illness, which began with an attack of grip, which later developed into pneumonia, Clint F. Logan, 74, former city official, died at his home on East Second Street, Tuesday night at 11:40 o'clock.

Mr. Logan was born in Poland, O., April 26, 1849, the son of William and Mary McNabb Logan. He came to Xenia when 44 years of age, and was married one year later to Miss Amber Ruth Barnes, of this city. Mrs. Logan preceded him in death just nine months ago.

The first three years of Mr. and Mrs. Logan's married life was spent in Batavia, and Troy, Ohio, residing since that time in this city.

Mr. Logan served the city for thirty years as city clerk, auditor, and was for thirty years secretary of the Woodland Cemetery Board, and was clerk of the Work House Board for many years. He was a member of Trinity M. E. Church, since his residence in Xenia, and sang for forty years in the choir of that church. Mr. Logan was a member of a male quartette, and during the campaign of William McKinley for president, this quartette engaged actively in the meetings Mr. Logan having been a school mate of William McKinley, in the town of their birth. He was also a member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Henryetta Logan and Mrs. William R. Bennington, at home, Miss Floyd Allen of Dayton, and Mrs. Clyde Wharton of Cincinnati. His only surviving brother, W. C. Logan, has made his home at the Logan residence for several years, and his sister, Mrs. O. P. Shaffer, is at present in Washington, D. C. She spent the past summer at the Logan home in this city.

Mr. Logan represented a number of insurance companies in this district, being in years of service the oldest agent for the Fidelity and Casualty Company in Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from Trinity M. E. Church, Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with interment in the family plot at Woodland Cemetery.

FOREIGN BUYING POWER IS NEEDED HERE SAYS EXPERT

Columbus, Jan. 31.—"Since 1920, through the lack of purchasing power on the part of our best foreign customers, our farmers are left with a surplus of farm products on their hands."

There is no real remedy but to wait until the consuming and purchasing power again catches up—as they will before very long," asserted Prof. T. N. Carver, Harvard University, expert on economics, addressing an audience at the Ohio State University in connection with the annual farmers' week program.

Indications today are that last year's attendance—6192—will be exceeded this week. Tuesday's attendance totalled more than 1,600 persons.

"Diversity in farming has been the saving factor in the life of the Ohio agriculturalist, and, because of this, he has an advantage over the one crop farmers of the west and south," declared O. E. Bradfute, Xenia, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, at the third annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. President Bradfute, who will retire tomorrow as president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said the condition of Ohio farmers is better than that of farmers in any other state.

Murray D. Lincoln, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio federation stated that sentiment favorable to the federation movement is continually enlarging.

Styles BY LENORE

Slim, new full of the charm of youthfulness—a frock to satisfy the most ardent longing for individuality. Made for the darling of cherry red satin faced Canton crepe, with navy blue serge for the pleated strips and the quaint bertha.

In a sober mood this frock appears in all gray with a material just a shade or two darker for the trimming, and in beige, the color so much loved in Paris, the effect is delightful.

For a dressier effect the same idea may be carried out in dull or satin crepe, with strips on the skirts of self-material, and a deep bertha of ecru lace or embroidered batiste.

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The resolution offered by Senator Burke of Lorain county, asking President Harding to call an international conference for "world rehabilitation and to prevent another world war," was defeated in the senate.

The vote on the measure was: Against 27, for 5. Senators who voted for the resolution were: Adair, Wayne county; Garver, Holmes county; Bragg, Erie county; Gender, Cuyahoga county, and Burke. The first three are Democrats.

Immediately after the action on the Burke resolution, Senator Jenkins of Lawrence county introduced a resolution asking the Ohio senate to uphold and affirm the administration's foreign policy at this time.

Senator Burke asked that the Jenkins resolution be made a special order of business for tomorrow. Majority Floor Leader Kryder insisted that the measure be considered immediately. After a short debate, Jenkins' resolution was put to a vote and passed without a roll call.

The house passed the bill introduced by Representative Morgan of Cuyahoga county, providing for a thirteenth, or alternative juror, to be appointed at the discretion of the judge in civil or criminal cases which are liable to be protracted.

Efforts were made in the house to bring to a vote the bill of Representative Harding of Warren county requiring filing of lists of officers and members of the Ku Klux Klan. Action was deferred by a vote of 50 to 27.

A bill by Representative Cope of Columbiana county, increasing salaries of court stenographers from $2,800 to $3,600 in counties having two or more judges, and from $1,800 to $2,700 in counties having one judge, was passed by the house.

The house also passed a bill by Knapp of Medina county abolishing the office of township treasurer and transferring his duties to the township clerk.

Registration of Voters.

Permanent registration of voters is provided for in a bill introduced by Representative Davidson of Akron. If adopted by the legislature, his proposal would become effective in 1924. The bill provides for registration throughout the year with the board of election, subregistrars or with township clerks. Registration lists would be kept up to date by making necessary changes because of changes in residence, deaths or removals from the state. Persons registered and failing to vote at two consecutive general elections would forfeit their right to vote until registered again.

The effect of the bill would be to make it unnecessary for a person once registered to register at any other time except in the event of a change of residence, when his registration card would be corrected upon giving of notice to the election authorities.

Representative Buchanan of Carroll county is the author of another one of several bills designed to aid in the enforcement of the "uniform rule" in taxation. Buchanan's bill would bar actions in court for fraud on notes, mortgages, certificates of deposit and the like, unless the note or contract sued upon has been listed for taxation.

SAYRE & HEMPHILL

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

Briefly, the "Better American Speech" subcommittee of which Mrs. Vernon M. Riegel, Columbus, is the head, plans to call attention to the beauty and flexibility of the English language, to correct the growing tendency toward slang, to circulate copies of the "English Creed," which has been approved by the General Federation "Better Speech" committee, and to suggest programs for stimulating a true appreciation of English.

Mrs. Riegel, who is the wife of Ohio's state director of education, now is busily engaged with plans for intensive work of her committee during the third week of February. Her committee forms a part of the division of education of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Wilmer H. Crawford, No. 2538 Vernon Place, Cincinnati, being the chairman.

"America, the Beautiful," the official song of the federation, has been arranged in three parts for women's voices and can be obtained free of charge. Address Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, General Federation Music chairman, No. 520 Fine Arts building, Chicago. Postage should be enclosed.

Honoring Dr. Josephine Peirce, of Lima, Ohio Federation recording secretary, officers of the Childs Conservation League were hostesses at a luncheon in Marion Jan, 19 at the First Presbyterian Church. Following the luncheon, the guests repaired to the quarters of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs in the Marion National Bank building, where Dr. Peirce spoke on child-welfare work. She is the president of the Child Welfare League in Lima and was former head of that committee in the Ohio Federation.

Sixty guests were entertained by the Unity Reading Circle at Newark at the home of Mrs. J. Rhoads, No. 48 East Church street. It was an event which Newark club women say will eclipse any similar affair.

The latest development in the Columbus Woman's Club is a lyceum bureau. Mrs. L. P. Sever is the director and Mrs. W. H. Cleveland, assistant director. Fifty have registered as bureau members. There will be four or five lecture groups and these will be sent out on a circuit to lecture wherever and whenever they are wanted. The idea is not only to develop club talent, but an underlying thought is to raise money for a club home. Mrs. C. E. Blanchard, president of the club, may be addressed at Ohio Federation headquarters, Hotel Southern, Columbus.

Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, Chicago, chairman of the General Federation's music division of fine arts, is to speak under the auspices of the Columbus Woman's Club at the Hotel Deshler ball room the afternoon of Feb. 28. A special program of music is being prepared. Living pictures arranged by Mrs. Charles T. Howe, will be featured. Mrs. Oberndorfer will come to Columbus as the guest-lecturer of the public health department of the Columbus Woman's Club, this department entertaining the art, music, literature and drama. "Fine Arts" departments upon this occasion. She will speak on "Music in the Home." An admission charge of 50 cents will

George Cline, Jamestown, changed his mind about paying a fine and then changed it back.

Cline was fined $700 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones Saturday on a charge of possessing liquor.

Tuesday, Cline wrote a check for the full amount, including the costs. Then it was he experienced his first change of heart. He stopped payment on the check.

Instead of paying the fine, Cline had the option of serving it out in the Dayton Work House. Armed with commitment papers, Deputy Sheriff John Baughn went to Jamestown to take him to the Dayton Works.

Then it was Cline experienced his second change of heart. He decided to pay the fine. He even went so far as to offer another check. But Deputy Baughn had an unpleasant memory about the first check drawn by Cline. He decided another stopped-payment causing another trip to Jamestown would be the height of folly. Instead, he accompanied Cline to the bank, where the latter was forced to draw the amount in cash.

Carrying the $730 in his pockets, Mr. Baughn returned to this city where he turned the cash over to Magistrate Jones.

Some of my Housekeeper Readers have written me that the salads they served on their Christmas and New Year's dinner tables were not very satisfactory.

"Won't you please write on the making of dainty salads?" say these letters.

The average housewife does not serve many salads in winter time, except for some special occasion. For, in the coldest months she has not as much lettuce at hand as she has in summer—when she can run out to the kitchen garden and pick it—then, too, she probably feels that a cold salad is not as satisfying as a hot dish in winter.

But the winter salad gets its in-lings when DAININESS is desired for a meal. On great occasions, or Holiday dinners, there is nothing that can make the table quite as attractive as a fancy salad. One of the two following might be tried:

Butterfly Salad: Cut one ring of canned sliced pineapple in half and lay these two semi-circles on a rather large flat lettuce leaf, so that the round parts of the pineapple slices touch. This makes the two wings of a butterfly. A whole walnut meat makes the butterfly's head; and two narrow strips of either red pepper or canned pimento, put one on either side of the nut, will suggest the antennae, or feelers. Two similar strips of the red pepper are put below the wings to finish the effect. Then the wings are decorated with a dab of Mayonnaise dressing on either wing.

Flower Salad: Take a whole slice of pineapple and lay upon it "petals" of red pepper. Stuff the whole in the slice of pineapple with cream cheese, sprinkle ground nut-meats on it, and serve with the following:

Golden Dressing for any Fruit Salad: Heat in a double boiler one-

fourth cup each of orange and pineapple juice added to one-fourth cup of lemon juice. Now beat two eggs light, add one-half cup of sugar to them, and add this mixture to the hot fruit juices. Cook till it "coats a spoon," as in making boiled custard. (For, the eggs thicken the fruit juices). Then stand the double boiler top in a dish of cold water and beat its contents until smooth. When cold, fold in one-half cup of heavy cream which you have beaten stiff. This is delicious. It is a sweet dressing, containing, as you see, no condiments, vinegar or any other ingredient to give it a biting or sour taste. Children can eat salads made with this dressing when they refuse other kinds.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

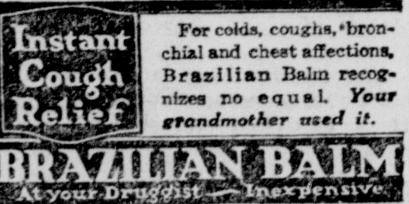

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

DOREEN DECIDES TO GO HOME CHAPTER 92

When I heard them rise from the dinner table, I knew I should not be allowed to remain in solitude any longer, so I arose, unlocked the door, and when Walter came in I was making my hair tidy.

I had been unable to weep, so aside from an unusual paleness there was nothing in my appearance to cause comment.

He brought me a tray daintily spread with tea and crisp toast. Rather than talk, I tried to eat a little. Then, to my relief, his mother asked him to go to a motion picture with her.

She was fast becoming what he called "a fan" and invariably if she saw him act as if he intended to sit down quietly at home she would ask us to go.

"Do go," I urged. "I shall lie down again, perhaps go to bed." I had arrived at no conclusion, yet necessity for doing so weighed heavily as the moments passed. It was hard to play a part, act as if nothing had happened.

I sighed with relief when the door closed after them.

I truly loved Walter and I asked myself:

"Does not true love mean sacrifice often? Does it not mean one perishes the loved one's happiness before their own? I had read of women, wives, stepping gallantly aside to make room for another whom the husband had learned to love."

Were they better women than I? Did they love their husbands more? To the last I answered unequivocally, no! Of the other questions I was not so sure of my answer.

I was just a plain home and husband loving woman without any particular talents.

Vashti Vernon was vivid, a beautiful flame. Beside her I was a nonentity. She was clever, scintillating, full of ardors. I had always been contented to sit back, to shine through the reflected light of my artist husband. She shone for him.

I felt a panic of helplessness. A great weariness came over me. I had tried to be a good wife, to be unselfish. I thought I understood my careless, lovable husband, thought I was doing the right to preserve our happiness, our home.

SAYS RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS PAIN IN FEW MINUTES

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, strains, sprains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around just try Red Pepper Rub. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into pain and congestion relief comes at once.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the sore spot is warmed through and through and the torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on every package. adv
